

CINE LATINO · SPRING 2017

Chavela

Directed by Catherine Gund and Daresha Kyi
(Mexico, Spain, USA, 2017)

Songs and never-before-seen interviews document the life and times of iconoclastic Mexican artist Chavela Vargas. 90 minutes. Spanish with English subtitles.

Wednesday, September 27, 6:00 pm
105 North Gate Hall

Which Way Home

Directed by Rebecca Cammisa (United States, 2009)

Several child migrants ride the train known as “The Beast” north across Mexico in this Oscar-nominated documentary. 90 minutes. Spanish with English subtitles.

Wednesday, October 11, 6:00 pm
105 North Gate Hall

500 Years: Life in Resistance

Directed by Pamela Yates (Guatemala, 2017)

The continuing struggle for justice and democracy in Guatemala told from the perspective of its majority indigenous Mayan population. 105 minutes. Spanish with English subtitles.

Wednesday, November 8, 6:00 pm
105 North Gate Hall

All Cine Latino screenings are free and open to the public. No ticket required.

CENTER FOR LATIN AMERICAN STUDIES · UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, BERKELEY

CLAS.BERKELEY.EDU

Chavela Vargas. (Photo by Maj Lindström.)